General members shall have the right to vote, hold office, attend and have an opportunity to speak at meetings, participate in raffles and drawings for the DNA Membership, and enjoy all other privileges incident to membership and participation in DNA. Associate members shall have the same privileges as General Members, except that they may not vote or hold office.

Section 2.

Qualifications. Membership in DNA as either a General Member or an Associate Member shall be open to the following: (1) any person whose primary residence is located within DNA's boundaries; (2) any person owning property located within DNA's boundaries; or (3) any person who operates a business within DNA's boundaries and qualifies as a "small business concern" under regulations promulgated by the U.S. Small Business Administration under the Small Business Act of 1953, including but not limited to 13 C.F.R. § 121.101, et seq. (as amended from time to time), any necessary interpretation of which will be subject to the Board of Directors' sole discretion. In addition, a member must have complied with Section 3 of this ARTICLE V regarding membership dues to be deemed a "General Member." Any member who elects not to pay membership dues or otherwise fails to timely pay membership dues will be deemed an "Associate Member." Subject to the applicable date of record for voting set forth in these Bylaws, an Associate Member may at any time be transferred to status as a General Member upon payment of the applicable membership dues for the then-current calendar year.

No entity shall be granted membership in DNA if such entity is an affiliate of an existing member of DNA. As used herein, an "affiliate" of a member means any corporation, partnership, joint venture, limited liability company, unincorporated organization, trust, association, or other entity that directly or indirectly, through one or more intermediaries, controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with, such member; the term "control" (including the terms "controlled by" and "under common control with") means the possession, directly or indirectly, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of an entity, whether through the ownership of voting securities, by contract, or otherwise. Moreover, no entity shall be granted membership in DNA based purely on its registered agent or principal business address on file with the Missouri Secretary of State.sub

Section 3.

Membership Dues. The Board of Directors shall determine in November of each year the level of dues to be collected from the Membership for the following year. The level of annual dues shall be no less than ten dollars ($10.00) per individual member and no less than fifty dollars ($50.00) per entity member. If the Board of Directors fails to determine the level of dues, then the dues collected for the following year shall be ten dollars ($10.00) per individual member and fifty dollars ($50.00) per entity member. Notwithstanding the foregoing, nothing herein may be construed to prevent the Board of Directors from developing, via resolution, other classifications of membership (e.g. group membership based on familial status or a separate dues structure for low-income members) as they deem advisable and in the best interests of the Corporation and setting corresponding membership dues for such classes of membership. No member shall be a General Member entitled to vote unless and until said member pays his or her annual dues. Dues shall not be pro-rated and shall be in the amount determined by the Board as set out above for any person who seeks membership in DNA during the calendar year, however starting in December of each year, a member may pre-pay his or her dues for the following year.

Absent such an affirmative reply, said persons on the Audit List shall be removed from the Membership Roll of DNA and shall not be allowed to vote in the next subsequent Annual Meeting but shall be eligible to re-apply for membership after the next subsequent Annual Meeting as long as the removed-member meets the requirements of Section 1 of this Article.

Unless otherwise specified in these Bylaws, decisions of DNA shall be made by a majority vote of the General Members present at any Annual Meeting, General Meeting, or Special Meeting.

Voting by proxy is specifically prohibited. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Board of Directors may opt to have the Corporation deliver a written ballot to members entitled to vote on any matter in accordance with Missouri Revised Statutes Section 355.266, which written ballot may be used in lieu of or in addition to a vote taken at a meeting and may at the Board of Directors' discretion be delivered through e-mail or other electronic medium. Any member who is a General Member of DNA for at least sixty (60) days before the date on which a meeting is held and a matter is called for a vote shall be entitled to vote on said matter, as long as said member is current on his or her annual dues to DNA.
